About the IRCF Program

Investing in Rural Community Futures is a grassroots program initiated in 2019 aimed at building and supporting the capacity of not-for-profits in rural communities. By working locally over five years, it aims to strengthen local not-for-profit (NFP) organisations and ultimately enable them to thrive, which in turn will have a positive impact on community well-being by providing and brokering investment in organisation strategy, efficiencies, systems, and people.

The program works in partnership with The Snow Foundation. Batemans Bay was identified as a participating community for the South Coast iteration of the IRCF program (joining Leeton, Nambucca, Junee, Ulladulla, Nowra and Bay and Basin) in 2020. All IRCF communities receive multi-year investment and support through to 2024, including but not limited to: access to grant funding; planning and facilitation support; skill development; knowledge and experience sharing; and resources.
